

Yuchen Zhu

Gainesville, FL | yuchenzhu@ufl.edu | +1 703 213 6971

Education

University of Florida , Ph.D. in Economics	2022 – Present
Interested Field: Public, Education and Health
Johns Hopkins University , Master in Applied Economics	2019
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign , Bachelor in Economics	2017
Minor: Statistics

Experience

Graduate Assistant – University of Florida, FL	2022-Present
- Teaching Assistant - ECP6035 Cost-Benefit Analysis (Master) Spring 2024 - ECO3101 Intermediate Microeconomics (Undergraduate) Fall 2023 - ECO4504 Public Economics (Undergraduate) Fall 2022 - Research Assistant - RA of Robert Ainsworth, Spring 2024 - now - RA of David Sappington, Spring 2023 - Summer 2024 - RA of Javier Donna, Spring 2023
Student Affairs Officer/ Administrative Assistant – Zhejiang University, China	2020-2022
- Managed international student services - Managed the campus career service center - Managed the campus mental health center
Teaching Assistant –Johns Hopkins University, MD	2018-2019
Real Estate Entrepreneurship (Master)

Projects

In Process
Research on college major constraints and student trends in switching majors.
On the Design of Price Caps as Sanctions - RA
Redistributive Politics under Ambiguity - RA
Navigating Higher Education - RA

Additional Experience And Awards

Director of International Student Counsel - Zhejiang University, China	2021-2022
Director of Residential College Student Committee - Zhejiang University, China	2021-2022

Miscellaneous

Skills: Microsoft Office, R, SPSS, SQL, Stata, Photoshop, Power BI Certifications: CFA Level 1